Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bradford et al (PTO-1449-2 4,869,053) in view of Brown (4,996,316). Bradford et al show a quick release safety attachment for a stirrup having spring loaded rods 23 and annular bushings 20 for the rods 23 in a sleeve 12, the attachment resting in a stirrup strap 13 for releasably engaging the ends of the stirrup 10 from the ends of the rods 25 and a pair of lever arms 34 extending radially outward from the sleeve 12 having inner ends 36 engaging the rods 23 for controlling the disengagement of the rods 23 from the ends of the stirrups 10. Bradford et al does not show the use of an annular washer. Brown teaches a safety stirrup having a spring loaded rod 15 with a bushing 52 and a thin annular washer-like bearing 48 within the sleeve 30 adjacent the bushing 52, the end of the spring 46 pressing against the bearing 48. With respect to claim 1, to use the washer-like bearing of Brown with the stirrup of Bradford et al would have been obvious to one skilled in the art in order more allow the spring to work more consistently allowing for inconsistencies in the winding of the spring and other slight differences in mechanical fit within the sleeve.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Included for further reference on safety stirrups are: Harms (1,087,762), Kitchingham, Jr. (3,157,977), Forest (4,209,962), Bezin (4,680,921) and Kuhn, Jr. (4,995,226).
